REPORT OF SUPT. SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

As in duty bound we say that, in reporting the condition of our schools, that we found them in nearly the same position they have occupied for several years past, but far below the position they occupied twenty-five years since. At that time a school Report from Fitzwilliam was used by John Wentworth, while giving an address on schools, in Chicago, and particular districts were designated as models worthy of imitation by the schools in the great West. Would they send here for models now? What makes the difference? We fearlessly reply, Paternal Influence. In those days every one felt the importance of attending the district meeting, not to make money out of the teacher's board, or by furnishing wood, but they all put their heads together to find the most interested and most successful man, for agent. They also discussed school questions, at these meetings, and agreed with each other about visiting the schools. At that time our School Association was in operation, and at those meetings every school house in town was packed full to overflowing with interested parents, while eager listeners filled the door, and some heard from a crack under the windows.

In those days the schools, some years, had over a thousand visits during the year. At the final examinations the houses were often so crowded, that visitors went away disappointed, for want of a seat. Then the school agents, so carefully selected, were seen driving swiftly, on the 2nd of March, at early morn, for the best teacher; sometimes two, and even three, have been known to meet at the same house; sometimes so early as to call the teacher out of bed, to decide which school he would take.

Such was the condition of our schools when Illinois sent here for models. How is it now? The School Association long since dead; district meetings neglected; agents chosen by rotation, or speculation; and little or nothing said about the teacher, or the best interests of the district. The number of visits to the schools dwindling from over a thousand, to four hundred and forty-six the present year.

Fellow Citizens, these things must not go on so! You must wake up, and bestir yourselves. It is one of the first and most sacred duties of every American citizen, to look after his own school district, to attend every meeting, and especially the annual meeting, to exert themselves to the utmost to get the best agent, one who has a deep interest in school affairs, who will cheerfully do his utmost to have a good school, one who does not take the office for pecuniary advantage, one who is interested in having a capable teacher, and so looks forward in his zeal, to give those scholars the education that will make them good citizens.

Our great reliance for success in schools is upon the teachers. In our examinations of them, we found a few that were amply qualified for their station, who had such a knowledge of the several branches taught, that they could stand at the head of their schools like the general at the head of his army, and go through all the evolutions, and all the lessons of the school-room without reference to a book. Such are the teachers we want, and must eventually have. Teachers that are alive, and being in perfect order, put their lessons rapidly along.

But such was not the majority of those that came forward for examination; many, by far too many, were unqualified to enter the school-room as teachers, but the precedent being established, we did not feel it our right to overturn the customs handed down to us by our predecessors, so we only refused a certificate to one: the first, we think, that has been refused for a number of years.

And here, we would advise the introduction of a section of the General Laws of New Hampshire, relative to the tenure of office of the Superintending School Committee, so that the board shall consist of three members, one of whose term of office shall expire each year, and a new one be chosen to take his place, thus giving to each year's board the responsibility of two members for the next year, since a committee chosen for one year feel a delicacy about mapping out work for their successors.

During the last year we think we have had better order than in some former years. By direction of the Committee, Reading, Writing and Spelling have been particularly attended to, and in most districts with commendable improvement.

We have had one failure, and three terms have closed without a final examination, on account of sickness; in other respects they have been uniformly successful, passing with less trouble than usual. We were sorry, very sorry, to see an increase in the number of tardy marks, particularly in one important district, under the care of a very interesting teacher, where there were over thirty such marks. We had supposed tardiness so far banished from our schools that they needed no further instruction on the subject, but we have found that "eternal vigilance" is the price of good schools.

In 1866 three ministers in town said, "In the judgment of your committee, the custom that has prevailed for several years past, of making detailed reports of the several schools, and commenting upon the special work of each teacher, is of doubtful utility. We are not aware that any particular advantage is secured by this course." Under the same impressions we have concluded to omit them. But we should like to say of district No. 2, that it was uncommonly successful in the selection of teachers, that had a better control of scholars and lessons than any we have seen before.

No. 8 for several years past has been troublesome to teachers, and others, but the past winter it has redeemed itself. The teacher, after the close of the winter term, paid a tribute to the scholars, by saying, "he had never had an easier school." We hope parents and scholars will, in future, unite to keep up the standing of the school.

The subject of schools is before you. It is a worthy object, it is open for discussion, and we hope you will not pass it by without mature deliberation and judicious action.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

SILAS CUMMINGS,
SAMUEL KENDALL,
CALVIN B. PERRY.

REPORT OF FIREWARDS,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING FEB. 29, 1880.

The fire department has been called out to two fires during the year.

March 20th, word was received at the depot that one of the wood sheds at State Line was on fire. An alarm was given by sending to the village, also by sounding the whistle on the mill at the depot. Considering the state of the roads, the engine was in a very short time at the depot, and a large number of men ready. They were taken to State Line by train, and in a short time the fire was extinguished, with the loss of only a small amount of wood. The railroad Company acknowledged the services of the company by a present of fifty dollars and their thanks. We would make honorable mention of the services of the citizens of State Line Village for their successful efforts in keeping the fire in check until the arrival of the department.

May 11th, the department were called out to a fire beside the railroad, east of the Templeton crossings. The engine was not used. Damage slight.

There have been three fires by which buildings were burned to which the department were not called.

The Olmstead house and barn, in the east part of the town. Cause unknown. The buildings occupied by Amos McGee, situated in District Number four. Cause a defective chimney.

And a building used by Ansel Allen as a store-house, situated in the west part of the town. Cause, struck by lightning.

We would call the attention of the town to giving alarms, as one evening the department were called out, and no one knew where the fire was located. The department is ever ready to respond to calls for assistance, but don't like false alarms.

The following is a list of the property in the possession of Fire Department, belonging to the town.

5 Fire-ward badges; 1 Hunneman engine; 1 hose carriage; 300 feet cotton, rubber lined, leading hose, new, never used; 300 " " " " " in good order; 100 feet leather leading hose, old and nearly worthless; 4 pieces suction hose, old but in fair condition; 12 spanners; 12 spanner belts; 3 axes; 3 lanterns; 1 monkey wrench; 1 oiler; 1 saddle for suction hose; 1 sled, old and worthless; 2 neck yokes; 1 pair whiffletrees; 1 hoisting jack; 1 sprinkler; 1 sponge; 4 hanging lamps; 6 fire buckets; 1 fire hook; 1 bell and frame from old engine; 2 stoves and pipe; 1 cord of wood; 2 settees.

The Supervisors take pleasure in reporting the Library in a very prosperous condition. The new counter, we believe, is a decided improvement and think the arrangement is generally liked by the patrons.

The Library now contains 1346 volumes, exclusive of what is generally known as the Unitarian Library, which numbers 412 volumes; by mistake the latter has heretofore been reported as containing 600 volumes. Chamber's Cyclopedia (a full set consisting of ten volumes, nicely and substantially bound) is one of the recent acquisitions to our library, and although quite expensive, we think our towns-people will never regret the purchase. During the past year 108 volumes have been added, some of which were donated. We learn from the Librarian that the circulation of books has increased perceptibly during the past year. As heretofore a number of Magazines have been donated.

We gladly acknowledge liberal donations of books from the following individuals, viz., Mrs. K. Otis Kimball, Miss Viola Spaulding, Mrs. H. B. Dyer, Mrs. Charles Newton, Mrs. O. K. Wheelock, and Joel Whittemore, Esq.

One of the finest donations, and much the most valuable that we have ever had the pleasure of acknowledging, recently came to the library from Monticello, Jones County, Iowa, presented by Otis Whittemore, Esq., a former resident of Fitzwilliam. Mr. Whittemore first sent us a "History of Jones County, Iowa," finely illustrated and exceedingly interesting. Soon after, sent (Express prepaid) an elegant copy entitled "Historical Atlas of the State of Iowa." This Atlas is the finest, most elaborate and comprehensive work of the kind we have ever had the pleasure of examining. We cannot fully describe this work in this place, but hereafter it can be examined by all who wish at the library. It is well worth a day's time if only to give it a casual examination. We heartily thank the giver for these exceedingly entertaining and instructive works.

Respectfully Submitted,

MRS. ETTA E. GLEASON, Librarian.
